GOV. HASKELL IS ENDORSED

Oklahoma Legislature Passes Resolutions of Commendation and Citizens Make Million and Quarter Dollar Bond

Guthrie, Ok., Feb. 4.—Gov. C. N. Haskell left for Muskogee tonight to appear in the federal court of the eastern district to answer indictments returned by the grand jury thereof in connection with Muskogee town lot transactions, according to arrangements made yesterday by Thomas H. Owens, the governor's attorney. A. C. Cruce of Ardmore, a brother of Lee Cruce, who opposed Governor Haskell in the primaries of 1907, has also been retained as counsel, and left for Muskogee this morning. It is understood that nothing more than the acceptance of bail in the sum of $5,000 will be done, and that no hearing may be had until the case is reached on the docket of the federal court there. Gov. Haskell says that he is anxious for an early trial.

Legislature Resents It.

The Oklahoma legislature is inclined to resent the indictments against Gov. Charles N. Haskell in connection with the Muskogee town lot transactions returned by a Federal grand jury in Muskogee yesterday, and both houses passed resolutions today touching upon the incident. Mr. Tillotson of Nowata county offered the following in the house of representatives which was adopted without discussion.

"Whereas, The press announces that the federal grand jury, sitting in Muskogee has returned an indictment against the Hon. C. N. Haskell, governor of this state, on a charge of conspiracy in connection with the transfer of town lots in the city of Muskogee, his home; and

"Whereas, We are aware that the enemies of Gov. Haskell are active at this time in seeking to encompass his destruction in order to evade legal responsibilities; and

"Whereas, Gov. Haskell has been a resident of this state for many years, during which time our people had ample occasion for familiarizing themselves with his character; therefore be it

"Resolved, by the House of Representatives,

denouncing the action of the government officials and expressing confidence in those who were indicted. Sentiment here is in their favor. C. W. Turner was the only one who would make a statement. Those indicted decline to make a public statement, each declaring he had done no wrong.

It is understood Gov. Haskell will ask that his case be brought to trial as soon as possible, which will probably not be before the May term.

Mott Says He Did It.

St. Louis, Mo., Feb. 4.—M. L. Mott, attorney for the Creek Nation, asserted here today that the land fraud investigation in Oklahoma was instituted as the result of evidence which he gathered in connection with the civil suits for the recovery of lands alleged to have been fraudulently obtained from the Indians, whom he represents. Interest of the government in the present prosecutions is simply that of a trustee, said Mr. Mott, who, with Chief Moty Tiger of the Creeks, was in St. Louis for a few hours on his way to Washington where they are to urge the enactment of certain legislation. He claims the Creeks lost many acres by fraudulent transactions. Because the government was trustee for the Indians it was charged with the duty of recovering the lands. But it was prevented from properly discharging its duties as trustee by the frauds. Consequently the interest of the government in the criminal plans is that of a trustee in addition to its usual police attitude.

"There is no truth in the report circulated by Gov. Haskell or his friends that William R. Hearst inspired the suits. I was the man who inspired the prosecutions, and from the first I have been the most active in forwarding them."

Million and Quarter Bond.

Guthrie, Okla., Feb. 4.—Further evidence that the resentment following the indictment of Gov. C. N. Haskell on the alleged charge of conspiracy is not confined to his home city of Muskogee, but is fast growing state wide, was furnished today when two citizens of Guthrie, J. M. Brooks and J. D. Burke, in a few minutes this afternoon secured a bond for the governor that represented probably more than $1,200,000.

The list of signers were: J. M. McNeal, A. R. Eastman, W. M. Spurlock, J. M. Brooks, N. H. Patterson, Edward Nichols, J. D. Burke, E. E. Byers, A. R. Byers, L. N. Beadles, U. C. Guss, Robert Schilberg, A. G. C. Bierer, Tom Jenkins, J. H. Rucks, J. J. O'Rourke, J. R. Cottingham, Will H. Chappell, L. G. Niblack, Roy V. Hoffman, Ed C. Peterson, H. O. Adams, and others.

This unusual complicity was paid the governor after it was known that citizens of Muskogee had yesterday made a bond for the full amount, in fact the number of signers appearing at the federal court rooms was greater than could be accommodated on the paper presented for their signatures.

Socialist Speaker Commits Suicide.

El Reno, Ok., Feb. 4.—W. U. Unger, a noted character of this city and a well known socialist speaker, killed himself this morning by taking strychnine. During the recent campaign he stumped the state in the interest of his party.

Will Work County Convicts.

Muskogee, Ok., Feb. 4.—The county commissioners are arranging to work Muskogee county prisoners on the roads. This has been contemplated for months, but not until today have the commissioners felt that they could proceed legally.

LEGISLATIVE PROCEEDINGS

In response to a widespread sentiment over the state that the provision of the constitution prohibiting the consolidation of railroads in the state has practically put a stop to new railway construction in Oklahoma, Senator Brownlee of Kingfisher, republican today introduced a joint resolution for the submission of a proposed constitutional amendment repealing this provision.

The provision in question is section 9, article 9, of the constitution, and it prohibits all consolidations, even going so far as to prevent a constructing company, which builds an independent line of railway, from selling it to one of the older railway systems.

The section is one which has been very frequently attacked by the railroads, as hindering progress of railroad building, and by the federation of commercial clubs.

Another constitutional amendment is proposed in a joint resolution by Taylor allowing the legislature to impose additional restrictions on suffrage but providing that no tax payment of more than $2 shall be required, and that the restriction shall not be in conflict with the fifteenth amendment. This was followed up with a bill in which Taylor provides that constitutional amendments shall be printed in the regular party columns on the official ballot, and that a vote in the circle under the device vote for all amendments unless the "yes" in front of them is scratched out.

Having as its object the prevention of tax payments in warrants and the actual issuance of tax receipts on drafts and checks until they have actually been paid by banks upon which was introduced by Senator Brownlee. The proposed measure makes it unlawful for those who have charge of the collection of taxes to accept any payment other than in lawful money, checks or drafts of postoffice orders or express company orders.

The senate completed engrossment of the school land bill and will endeavor to pass it finally tomorrow. There are pending on third reading a large number of amendments defeated in committee of the whole. Among them is one to sell all the school lands in the state, but submit the matter to a vote of the people, so they may retain any class of lands they desire. As the bill was engrossed, the common school and higher college lands are reserved from sale, with varying details as to the amount of purchase subject to change. There is no restriction upon buyers not prohibited by the constitution, and non-residents are given the same opportunities enjoyed by residents. Long-time payments are provided for, and it is agreed that should the state need money for the erection of public buildings another act would be passed authorizing the issuance of debenture bonds based upon the public buildings lands. The emergency clause was defeated.

A favorable report was made upon the bill by Mr. Turner, for the organization of a state police department with powers of sheriffs, in all counties of the state likewise upon the bill regulating the practice of chiropractors.

representatives of the Second Legislature of the State of Oklahoma. That we take this occasion of expressing our high esteem and continued confidence in Gov. Under the previous question moved by Mr. McCalla, which prevented debate, the resolution went through by a viva voce vote, only a very few being in the negative.

The senate also received a resolution, but did not adopt it, owing to objections by Senator Roddie, which deferred action until tomorrow. Senator Roddie's objection was based upon expediency, as the resolution proposed by Senator Smith of Duncan went more into details of the incident than did the resolution of the House.

THE ROOSEVELT AND HEARST INDICTMENTS.

Muskogee Times-Democrat.

The expected has happened. Governor Haskell thinks that ever since he sued William R. Hearst for libel and exposed Theodore Roosevelt in the Osage Indian land lease frauds those twin exemplars of civic righteousness—the one receiving and paying for the stolen Archbold letters and the other hiding and refusing to congress the papers in which he permitted, or suggested or recommended, that his friends of the Steel Trust illegally acquire the stock of the helpless Tennessee Coal & Iron company, by which its stockholders were impoverished and his cronies vastly enriched—the two of them, probably working in concert, have moved heaven, earth and the federal machinery to "get even" with the man who dared tell the truth and defy the minions of an enemy who stops at nothing to compass his ends, however reprehensible or however indefensible they may be. The alleged offense for which the governor and several other prominent residents of this city and community stand indicted was committed years ago, but up to that time the president and his unsavory side partner had no personal quarrel with anyone down here and their shortcomings had not been exposed and denounced by Oklahoma's chief executive. But when he dared to denounce crime and criminals then they felt he was personal in his philippics and caustic in his diatribes.

In the prosecution of their designs they have threaded every avenue of Oklahoma's territory and turned over every stone under which might be concealed some act that might possibly throw discredit upon the governor. For months their secret agents, from ex-convicts to secret service men in the employ of the federal government, have shadowed every man prying into every recess in every town in Oklahoma in hopes of unearthing some disreputable act of the governor upon which they might base a criminal accusation.

Not only that, but reputable men are said to have been approached and offered money to swear falsely against the executive, and one of said alleged "agents" was caught, exposed and jailed.

Indictments are easily found, evidence being heard only by the prosecution and then from willing witnesses for the government, and judgment should be withheld until the defense is heard. Whether technically or actually guilty the accused must and will have their day in court. In the cases under discussion no one will deny that the men accused are and were the ranking upholders of the territory and state in which they live and for which they have labored more perhaps than any other six men in it. The most violent partisan will not deny that the prosecution as now conducted was instituted with the avowed intention and ultimate object of breaking the governor and diverting attention from the known culpability of the men behind the federal guns. So far they have been partially successful, in that they have for the moment thrown an honest and avenging Nemesis off their own track but this desperate attempt to side track real offense and give themselves a respite will not avail nor condone the acts for which they must stand trial before the bar of public opinion, the most just and the most inexorable tribunal on earth.

OBJECTIONS ARE WITHDRAWN.
Bill for Sale of Coal Surface Lands May Now Pass.

McAlester, Ok., Feb. 4.—E. P. Hill of McCurtain & Hill, attorneys for the Choctaw and Chickasaw tribes of Indians, returned today from Kinta, where he has been in conference with Gov. Green McCurtain. It is now announced that Gov. McCurtain is in favor of selling the surface of the segregated coal lands and is in accord with the bill to this end now pending in congress. This now ends all opposition to the measure, except that of Representative Bird McGuire he being the only member of the Oklahoma delegation not in favor of such sale. Governor McCurtain in his last message to the Choctaw Council had recommended that the coal and the surface be sold together and the council so memorialized congress and sent Dr. Wright and Peter Hudson to Washington as delegates to work to this end. That with the Indians' objection withdrawn there is a prospect of the bill becoming a law at this session of congress, is the belief expressed here.

Ex-Agency Cashier Convicted.

Muskogee, Ok., Feb. 4.—A verdict of guilty was returned by the jury in the United States court against Lyman K. Lane, charged with the embezzlement of $7,890.50 from the government while cashier of the union agency. Lane's attorneys at once filed a motion for a new trial. Lane was released on his old bond until tomorrow morning.

FREE EMPLOYMENT AGENCY

Oklahoma City, Ok., Feb. 4.—The new state of Oklahoma has undertaken, by means of a free employment agency to solve the double problem of relieving the shortage in labor and of supplying work for the unemployed. It might seem peculiar that a state should have a shortage in its labor supply and at the same time have many unemployed within its borders, but such a condition often exists because of the unequal distribution of the labor and the inability of the employer who needs labor and the laborer who needs work to get into touch with each other. The removal of this difficulty is one of the chief objects of the free employment agency which was provided for by the First Oklahoma State legislature. It is a duty of the superintendent of the agency not only to attempt to secure employment for those who apply for work and to supply labor to those employers who ask for the help of the agency, but to anticipate these demands by making an investigation to determine where there is a shortage and where there is an oversupply of labor and to attempt to remedy these conditions by endeavoring to secure a more even distribution of the labor.

That the work of the agency has been of great value is shown by the fact that since July 1, when the office was opened, employment has been furnished to 2,500 persons. The records of the office show that fully 90 per cent of the persons who have applied for work have secured employment through the agency, while about 75 per cent of the applications for labor have been filled.

The results have been so satisfactory that plans are already being made for the extension of the work and the next legislature will be asked to enact a law which will enable the agency to enlarge the scope of its usefulness.

It is proposed to establish ten or twelve subagencies in various parts of the state. This will enable the superintendent to keep in close touch with local conditions and make it easier for employers and employees in various parts of the state to avail themselves of the service of the agency. E. W. Vance, the superintendent of the agency, also has a plan which he proposes to put into effect after Jan. 1, which he believes will be of great value in his work. He proposes to have the secretary of every local labor union in the state to make a postal card report to him every week, showing the exact labor conditions in the field covered by his union, giving information in regard to the demand for labor and the number of members of the union out of employment. Mr. Vance, who is an old railroad man, proposes to keep this record on a sheet resembling that of a train dispatcher, so that he can determine at a glance where labor is needed and where the men to meet the demands are to be found.

It is the aim of the agency to make the local supply meet the local demand so far as possible and to find positions for applicants as near their home as possible. This reduces the cost of transportation and enables the applicants to secure employment at or near their homes.

During the last summer and fall there has been less complaint of a shortage of farm labor than has been heard in the past, as the agency has been able to supply almost all the demands that have been made upon it for that class of labor. There is still a shortage in farm labor, however, as well as in common labor of all kinds.

The work of the agency is not confined to the supplying of demands for manual labor, but according to the superintendent, includes the furnishing of employment in any trade or profession. The applications for positions as stenographers and bookkeepers have outnumbered those for any other kind of employment and Superintendent Vance finds that there is a considerable surplus of this class of help over the demand. This he ascribes largely to the great number of graduates which are being turned out every year by the hundreds of business colleges in the country.

The railroads have availed themselves of the services of the agency and applications have been received for conductors, engineers and railroad men of all kinds. Civil engineers, draughtsmen and other skilled workmen have secured good positions through the agency.

The services of the agency are available not only to residents of Oklahoma, but to persons in other states who desire to secure employment in the new state. Many applications have been received from persons in the east and north. The service is entirely free, not even a registration fee being charged. The agency is maintained by an appropriation out of the general revenues of the state and no attempt is made to make it self-supporting.

The free employment agency is only one branch of the department of labor which was created by the new state constitution as a result of the demands made by the union labor interests of the state. Probably no other organization was as active as the labor unions during the period of the formation of the new state, and as a result the labor interests secured the enactment of many laws which are expected to be of great benefit to the laboring classes. The constitution provides for the creation of a department of labor under the direction of a commissioner of labor, who shall be elected by the people. In every other state which has a labor commission the office is an appointive rather than an elective one. It is believed by the labor interests here that a commissioner elected by and responsible to the people can be relied upon to administer the duties of the office more fearlessly and independently than one appointed by the Governor and restricted by his relations to the administration.

The union labor interests have absolute control of the department of labor as it is at present constituted. Charles Daugherty, the labor commissioner is a union printer, and he has made a rule that no one shall be employed in the department who does not hold a union card.

W. G. Ashton the assistant commissioner, is a union printer. G. E. Warren, Factory Inspector, is a member of the Carpenter's Union; E. W. Vance, Superintendent of the Free Employment Agency, is a member of the Brotherhood of Railroad Conductors, and even the stenographer in the office is a member of the Farmers' Union.

Factory inspection and the settlement of labor troubles are the other main features of the work of the department of labor, in addition to the maintenance of the Free Employment Bureau. The law relating to factory inspection provides that the Factory Inspector shall inspect, at least once every year, all foundries, workshops, machine shops, laundries and manufacturing establishments in the state. The law prescribes in detail the conditions which should exist in such institutions and the inspector is given authority to order any changes in the buildings, equipment and working conditions which he may deem necessary to secure a compliance with the law and to protect the employees. If his orders are not complied with, it is the duty of the comty attorney to prosecute the offender. The inspector has already made one inspection and is now on his second tour over the state to see whether his orders are being obeyed.

While no occasion has arisen to test the value of the law creating a state board of arbitration and conciliation, that body is expected to prove of great value when its services are needed. The law provides that this board shall have the power, even if neither party to a strike will consent to submit the matter to arbitration, to make an investigation of the facts and make recommendations for the settlement of the controversy. The board has the power to issue subpoenas and compel the attendance of witnesses. The board has no power to force the parties to the controversy to accept its findings, but it is believed that public opinion will force the acceptance of the board's findings if a public investigation shows that they are fair and just.

Coal Land Companies Owe State.

Guthrie, Ok., Feb. 4.—State Auditor Trapp has received reports from twenty-five coal companies operating in the McAlester field, covering their gross productions of coal in compliance with the Anthony bill. The Auditor went to McAlester two weeks ago to examine the books. From the reports he finds these coal companies are indebted to the state in taxes and penalties aggregating $150,000 and next week he will issue tax warrants for collection against those companies which have reported, as well as the ones that have not. The law became effective May 26, and the first payment was due June 30, the next Sept. 30, and the third on Dec. 31. The penalty is 19 per cent per annum, while the gross revenue tax is 2 per cent.

Suit for $15,000.

Muskogee, Feb. 5.—Fifteen thousand dollars is the sum demanded of the M. K. & T. railway for the death of her husband by Mrs. Mary Berry of Konawa. Mrs. Berry's claim has been taken to the United States district court and the case was set by Judge Campbell for today.

Mrs. Berry charges in her petition for damages, that the railroad company's employees killed her husband through negligence at Konawa in July of 1907. A work train she alleges, was running without lights or signals at night and struck her husband on the public highway.

Judge John Q. Hyde with Attorneys Furman and Croxton will represent Mrs. Berry. Captain A. P. Cagle, surveyor of Seminole county is one of the witnesses in the case.

IT IS AN IMPORTANT MEETING

A mass meeting of the citizens of Ada, is called Saturday night at the 25,000 Club rooms to consider the Normal situation.

A report will be had from Messrs. Broadfoot, Winbush, Thomas and others who have been to Guthrie, in behalf of Ada's interests.

The situation is as flattering as could be expected, but constant watchfulness is necessary to hold the vantage point that Ada has secured.

This meeting tomorrow night is an important one, and it behooves every citizen of Ada, who is interested in the continued upbuilding and advancement of the city, to be present.

FIERCE WIND AND LIGHTNING

At midnight or thereabouts last night a sudden miniature cyclone swept down on Ada, and preceded lightning and rain a short while.

The wind came in gusts that toppled over many out houses, lifted roofs and demolished awnings, while several houses were moved from their foundations.

Many people lost no time in leaping from their beds to ascertain the course of the rocking motion of their surroundings, and some were thoroughly awakened by the crash of furniture, breaking of crockery and general unsteadiness of the buildings in which they were.

Among some of those suffering loss are the following:

The residence of Supt. Pierce was lifted from its foundation and damage done his household effects, while he was no doubt a much frightened man as his wife is away from home and he was there alone. This morning the Professor hid himself to where his wife is visiting.

The Sunrise school house that a former wind somewhat loosed from its moorings was last night completed in its removal from its foundation.

Chas. Bills had a wagon to disappear in the wind and he is trying to locate its whereabouts.

A house of Chas. Martin was also blown off its foundation and other damage done his premises.

E. L. Pool had a barn demolished.

E. E. Matthews' buggy was torn up.

Carlton Weaver's new chicken coop

New State Restaurant

Meals served between the hours of 11:30 and 2 o'clock

Short orders served at all hours

Always the best that the market affords

disappeared along with one lone hen with which he was trying to make a start in the poultry business.

The barn on Mr. Miller's place was blown several yards.

The wooden awning in front of a pool hall was blown down and a large plate glass window broken.

A small residence on east Main street was blown off its foundation.

Several other barns were demolished and numerous small houses toppled over, while roofs of a number of houses were damaged.

Mrs. W. O. Neely has returned from Tishomingo.

Col. Campbell Returned Salute.

They are telling a story of W. H. L. Campbell, clerk of the state supreme court, that is a good story whether, it is true or not. Campbell was recently appointed colonel on the governor's staff. He made his first appearance in uniform at El Reno, while that town was entertaining the governor and members of the Oklahoma legislature recently. According to the story, as it comes from El Reno, Campbell's plotting friends prevailed on the governor to salute Campbell as he passed. Campbell, somewhat ignorant of the exact nature of the military salute, but equally anxious to do the right thing, removed his hat and made a bow worthy of the name. It is said that it cost him $50 to treat the crowd.

ADA WILL BE REPRESENTED

The Cement Users and Contractors' convention will meet at Oklahoma City, Feb. 9th and continue in session three days. It will be the first annual convention held of those who represent such an important and growing industry as the manufacture and use of cement is growing to be in Oklahoma.

Richard L. Humphreys, president of the National Cement Users' association will be present and deliver an address, and other prominent speakers from a distance will also be present.

Wm. L. Whittaker, manager of the Oklahoma Portland Cement company of Ada, will speak on the "Manufacture of Portland Cement and its relation to the Development of Oklahoma."

This will be one of the most important questions before the convention for discussion, and Mr. Whittaker is thoroughly capable of treating the subject in all its phases, and his selection to discuss it was a most appropriate one.

The cement industry is one of the most important in the future development of this section and it is unquestionably the coming building material of the age.

Bachelor Girls' Ball.

Although Leap Year has passed, the bachelor girls of Ada, who are progressive and up to date do not care about that. Tonight they will give a ball to the eligible young men here who dance, and if these boys do not succumb to the grace, beauty and wiles of these bachelor girls, they are a hardened set of incorrigibles.

The court room is being beautifully decorated in festoons of variegated colors and unique designs formed under the skillful hands of Lee Eddleman and Johnnie Katz.

The music will be fine, the floor well waxed and a gay time is anticipated by the bachelor girls and their escorts.

Warrants That Can Be Paid.

County Treasurer Cates has the money to pay warrants as follows:
From 1 to 19 on the supply fund.
From 1 to 33 on the county fund.
From 1 to 273 on court fund.
From 1 to 20 on the salary fund.

East Main Street, Ada, Okla.

STATE CAPITAL LETTER.

Guthrie, Okla., Feb. 3.—That another Hearst agent now working in Oklahoma in an effort to prosecute Governor Haskell has a shady reputation was learned today when telegraphic information was received by Governor Haskell from the Chief of Detectives at Nashville, Tenn.

This agent, the second to become conspicuous within the past week or two, is now at Muskogee. From reliable source it was learned that the agent had a record at Nashville. In reply to a telegram Governor Haskell received the following answer:

"Nashville, Tenn., Feb. 3.—Governor C. N. Haskell, Guthrie, Okla.: Has no criminal record on books here. Was convicted for kidnapping witness in Mullineux case in New York, 1899. Went to asylum here to avoid prosecution for horse stealing. Is an all around crook. Can secure plenty of prominent people who would not believe him on oath. Have written.

"ROBERT SIDEBOTTOM, "Chief of Detectives."

This is the character of one of the agents most prominent in securing evidence against Governor Haskell at the Muskogee land investigation.

MacReynolds, the other agent, is still in Guthrie. He refuses to make a statement.

Emergency sections tacked upon bills introduced in the legislature, are meeting a swift death on final enactment. The temper of the legislature seems to be to eliminate the emergency feature from all bills that are not of vital importance for the preservation of public peace, health and safety.

Guthrie, Feb. 3.—The Charles bill, permitting cider manufactured outside of the state, to be sold in Oklahoma, when the product complies with the national and state pure food laws and the internal revenue laws, has passed both branches of the legislature.

Senator Graham is preparing a thorough bill looking to the location of the state capital. His measure incorporates the New Jerusalem scheme in a most practical way. If adopted as written the first election will be held the second Tuesday in September next. A second election will be likely to obtain the necessary majority of all votes cast, as provided in the constitution.

Five bills have been approved to the governor.

Few amendments are being made to the school land bill in the senate.

A special committee from both Houses sat as a court of inquiry today to determine who is responsible for errors in the recently published statutes of Oklahoma. The Pipes-Reed Book Co., of Kansas City, contract printers, have had their bill for $30,000 held up pending the investigation.

Guthrie, Okla., Feb. 3.—The effort of the Guthrie State Capital, Judge J. H. Burford, Dennis Flynn and Bird McGuire, defendants in the suit filed against them by the state of Oklahoma to collect overcharges for printing done for Oklahoma Territory by the State Capital Co., to evade the suit by bringing a technical objection to the action, does not agree with the published interview with the defendants last fall when the campaign was on. All of them insisted that they were ready and anxious for trial. When the case was called in the district court of Logan county a few days ago they protested against the identity of the attorney bringing action in behalf of the governor and the court sustained their position. An appeal to the State Supreme court is to be taken at once by the state.

The first candidate for the state capital, under the New Jerusalem idea was presented in the House today by Representative Charles, of Lincoln county. It provides for the location of an "Ideal capital city" on lands now owned by the state located in the extreme southern part of Lincoln county. There are no present railroad connections with the site in question.

M. O. & G. Trains to Calvin.

Muskogee, Ok., Feb. 4.—The Missouri, Oklahoma and Gulf opened its road to Calvin, Ok., today. Tomorrow a special train bearing the Muskogee commercial club will make a trip over the new line. The road now connects with the Rock Island.

Coal Vein in City.

Muskogee, Ok., Feb. 4.—A twelve-foot vein of coal was struck today in the center of Muskogee, when work men were excavating for a sewer. The strike caused a rise in the property in the vicinity.

Let Us Prove It

Cox-Greer-McDonald Company

Governor Haskell.

If Hearst feels pleasure that Governor Haskell is now indicted on as high sounding criminal charge as that of conspiracy to defraud the government, and it may be presumed that he does, since he has exhausted every device known to crookedness, and every influence which may be afforded through unlimited wealth and national presidential assistance, it is only a further evidence that all the pleasure which could ever possibly come to him through any accomplishment before the public, must come as a result of such a depraved principle, supported by such diseased imagination, which would preclude him from judging the public's estimation of him other than in converse capacity.

As far as the public's estimate of Mr. Hearst's slanders and Mr. Roosevelt's detestable persecutions, inspired by predatory and political corruptionists so long the masters of Oklahoma, against Mr. Haskell, is concerned, Oklahoma's governor is "loved for the enemies he has made." Some old maids of the Brosius Indian Rights Association type, located a thousand miles away, may be credulous enough to further aid in the slander of Oklahoma, when Mr. Hearst, in red line display, publishes the news of the Haskell indictment, but Oklahomans and sensible discerning people throughout the nation will understand the animus governing those influences responsible for these indictments and will refuse to hold the governor culpable.

The citizens of Ada will remember how, on the evening preceding the day when the federal government would offer for sale to the highest bidder all the vacant lots in the city of Ada, they filled the court room in open public mass meeting and in the presence of the government representative declared in resolution that the citizens of Ada who held present, peaceable possession of vacant lots should buy the same at the next day's auction at the government's appraisal without interference from others.

This was conspiracy with a vengeance as compared to the conspiracy charge against the Muskogee gentlemen.

It has taken courage and much manhood to build East Oklahoma to its present magnificent proportions and Oklahomans understand just how it was done and such knowledge emphasizes their decision that Haskell has done no wrong. The townsites fund of the government held in trust for the Indians of the several tribes interested has been enriched hundreds of thousands of dollars through the Oklahoma railroads he conceived, financed and constructed, and through the exercise of that splendid genius, which through legitimate financial effort built of Muskogee a leading city of the southwest. Those fellows who have taken on fresh zest in attack on the governor because of this Muskogee indictment are plainly cracked.

The wooden awnings that are being blown down with every stiff breeze are a menace to life, limb and property. There are several more ready to fall and they should be torn down. They are unsightly and dangerous.

The circulation of the Daily News has had a gratifying increase the past month, and it is now practically read by nearly all the families in Ada. This is quite a consuming population and the business man who fails to seek this trade is the loser. The Daily News reaches these people every day and through it their attention can be secured.

THE ROOSEVELT AND HEARST INDICTMENTS.

Muskogee Times-Democrat.

The expected has happened. Governor Haskell thinks that ever since he sued William R. Hearst for libel and exposed Theodore Roosevelt in the Osage Indian land lease frauds those twin exemplars of civic righteousness—the one receiving and paying for the stolen Archbold letters and the other hiding and refusing to congress the papers in which he permitted, or suggested or recommended, that his friends of the Steel Trust illegally acquire the stock of the helpless Tennessee Coal & Iron company, by which its stockholders were impoverished and his cronies vastly enriched—the two of them, probably working in concert, have moved heaven, earth and the federal machinery to "get even" with the man who dared tell the truth and defy the minions of an enemy who stops at nothing to compass his ends, however reprehensible or however indefensible they may be. The alleged cause for which the governor and several other prominent residents of this city and community stand indicted was committed years ago, but up to that time the president and his unsavory side partner had no personal quarrel with anyone down here and their shortcomings had not been exposed and denounced by Oklahoma's chief executive. But when he dared to denounce crime and criminals then they felt he was personal in his philippics and caustic in his diatribes.

In the prosecution of their designs they have threaded every avenue of Oklahoma's territory and turned over every stone under which might be concealed some act that might possibly throw discredit upon the governor. For months their secret agents, from ex-convicts to secret service men in the employ of the federal government, have shadowed every man prying into every recess in every town in Oklahoma in hopes of unearthing some disreputable act of the governor upon which they might base a criminal accusation.

Not only that, but reputable men are said to have been approached and offered money to swear falsely against the executive, and one of said alleged "agents" was caught, exposed and jailed.

Indictments are easily found, evidence being heard only by the prosecution and then from willing witnesses for the government, and judgment should be withheld until the defense is heard. Whether technically or actually guilty the accused must and will have their day in court. In the cases under discussion no one will deny that the men accused are and were the ranking upbuilders of the territory and state in which they live and for which they have labored more perhaps than any other six men in it. The most violent partisan will not deny the prosecution as here conducted was instituted with the avowed intention and ultimate object of breaking the governor and diverting attention from the known culpability of the men behind the federal guns. So far they have been partially successful, in that they have for the moment thrown an honest and avenging Nemesis off their own track but this desperate attempt to side track real offense and give themselves a respite will not avail nor condone the acts for which they must stand trial before the bar of public opinion, the most just and the most inexorable tribunal on earth.

OBJECTIONS ARE WITHDRAWN.

Bill for Sale of Coal Surface Lands May Now Pass.

McAlester, Ok., Feb. 4.—E. P. Hill of McCurtain & Hill, attorneys for the Choctaw and Chickasaw tribes of Indians, returned today from Kinta, where he has been in conference with Gov. Green McCurtain. It is now announced that Gov. McCurtain is in favor of selling the surface of the segregated coal lands and is in accord with the bill to this end now pending in congress. This now ends all opposition to the measure, except that of Representative Bird McGuire he being the only member of the Oklahoma delegation not in favor of such sale. Governor McCurtain in his last message to the Choctaw Council had recommended that the coal and the surface be sold together and the council so memorialized congress and sent Dr. Wright and Peter Hudson to Washington as delegates to work to this end. That with the Indians' objection withdrawn there is a prospect of the bill becoming a law at this session of congress, is the belief expressed here.

Ex-Agency Cashier Convicted.

Muskogee, Ok., Feb. 4.—A verdict of guilty was returned by the jury in the United States court against Lyman K. Lane, charged with the embezzlement of $7,890.50 from the government while cashier of the union agency. Lane's attorneys at once filed a motion for a new trial. Lane was released on his old bond until tomorrow morning.

FREE EMPLOYMENT AGENCY

Oklahoma City, Ok., Feb. 4.—The new state of Oklahoma has undertaken, by means of a free employment agency to solve the double problem of relieving the shortage in labor and of supplying work for the unemployed. It might seem peculiar that a state should have a shortage in its labor supply and at the same time have many unemployed within its borders, but such a condition often exists because of the unequal distribution of the labor and the inability of the employer who needs labor and the laborer who needs work to get into touch with each other. The removal of this difficulty is one of the chief objects of the free employment agency which was provided for by the First Oklahoma State legislature. It is a duty of the superintendent of the agency not only to attempt to secure employment for those who apply for work and to supply labor to those employers who ask for the help of the agency, but to anticipate these demands by making an investigation to determine where there is a shortage and where there is an oversupply of labor and to attempt to remedy these conditions by endeavoring to secure a more even distribution of the labor.

That the work of the agency has been of great value is shown by the fact that since July 1, when the office was opened, employment has been furnished to 2,500 persons. The records of the office show that fully 80 per cent of the persons who have applied for work have secured employment through the agency, while about 15 per cent of the applications for labor have been filled.

The results have been so satisfactory that plans are already being made for the extension of the work and the next legislature will be asked to enact a law which will enable the agency to enlarge the scope of its usefulness.

It is proposed to establish ten or twelve subagencies in various parts of the state. This will enable the superintendent to keep in close touch with local conditions and make it easier for employers and employees in various parts of the state to avail themselves of the service of the agency. E. W. Vance, the superintendent of the agency, also has a plan which he proposes to put into effect after Jan. 1, which he believes will be of great value in his work. He proposes to have the secretary of every local labor union in the state to make a postal card report to him every week, showing the exact labor conditions in the field covered by his union, giving information in regard to the demand for labor and the number of members of the union out of employment. Mr. Vance, who is an old railroad man, proposes to keep this record on a sheet resembling that of a train dispatcher, so that he can determine at a glance where labor is needed and where the men to meet the demands are to be found.

It is the aim of the agency to make the local supply meet the local demand so far as possible and to find positions for applicants as near their home as possible. This reduces the cost of transportation and enables the applicants to secure employment at or near their homes.

During the last summer and fall there has been less complaint of a shortage of farm labor than has been heard in the past, as the agency has been able to supply almost all the demands that have been made upon it for that class of labor. There is still a shortage in farm labor, however, as well as in common labor of all kinds.

The work of the agency is not confined to the supplying of demands for manual labor, but according to the superintendent, includes the furnishing of employment in any trade or profession. The applications for positions as stenographers and bookkeepers have outnumbered those for any other kind of employment and Superintendent Vance finds that there is a considerable surplus of this class of help over the demand. This he ascribes largely to the great number of graduates which are being turned out every year by the hundreds of business colleges in the country.

The railroads have availed themselves of the services of the agency and applications have been received for conductors, engineers and railroad men of all kinds. Civil engineers, draughtsmen and other skilled workmen have secured good positions through the agency.

The services of the agency are available not only to residents of Oklahoma, but to persons in other states who desire to secure employment in the new state. Many applications have been received from persons in the east and north. The service is entirely free, not even a registration fee being charged. The agency is maintained by an appropriation out of the general revenues of the state ty attorney to prosecute the offender. The inspector has already made one inspection and is now on his second tour over the state to see whether his orders are being obeyed.

The free employment agency is only one branch of the department of labor which was created by the new state constitution as a result of the demands made by the union labor interests of the state. Probably no other organization was as active as the labor unions during the period of the formation of the new state, and as a result the labor interests secured the enactment of many laws which are expected to be of great benefit to the laboring classes. The constitution provides for the creation of a department of labor under the direction of a commissioner of labor, who shall be elected by the people. In every other state which has a labor commission the office is an appointive rather than an elective one. It is believed by the labor interests here that a commissioner elected by and responsible to the people can be relied upon to administer the duties of the office more fearlessly and independently than one appointed by the Governor and restricted by his relations to the administration.

The union labor interests have absolute control of the department of labor as it is at present constituted. Charles Daugherty, the labor commissioner is a union printer, and he has made a rule that no one shall be employed in the department who does not hold a union card.

W. G. Ashton the assistant commissioner, is a union printer. E. E. Warren, Factory Inspector, is a member of the Carpenter's Union. E. W. Vance, Superintendent of the Free Employment Agency, is a member of the Brotherhood of Railroad Conductors, and even the stenographer in the office is a member of the Farmers' Union.

Factory inspection and the settlement of labor troubles are the other main features of the work of the department of labor, in addition to the maintenance of the Free Employment Bureau. The law relating to factory inspection provides that the Factory Inspector shall inspect, at least once every year, all foundries, workshops, machine shops, laundries and manufacturing establishments in the state. The law prescribes in detail the conditions which should exist in such institutions and the inspector is given authority to order any changes in the buildings, equipment and working conditions which he may deem necessary to secure a compliance with the law and to protect the employees. If his orders are not complied with, it is the duty of the com-

ty attorney to prosecute the offender. The inspector has already made one inspection and is now on his second tour over the state to see whether his orders are being obeyed. While no occasion has arisen to test the value of the law creating a state board of arbitration and conciliation, that body is expected to prove of great value when its services are needed. The law provides that this board shall have the power, even if neither party to a strike will consent to submit the matter to arbitration, to make an investigation of the facts and make recommendations for the settlement of the controversy. The board has the power to issue subpoenas and compel the attendance of witnesses. The board has no power to force the parties to the controversy to accept its findings, but it is believed that public opinion will force the acceptance of the board's findings if a public investigation shows that they are fair and just.

Coal Land Companies Owe State.
Guthrie, Ok., Feb. 4.—State Auditor Trapp has received reports from twenty-five coal companies operating in the McAlester field, covering their gross productions of coal in compliance with the Anthony bill. The Auditor went to McAlester two weeks ago to examine the books. From the reports he finds these coal companies are indebted to the state in taxes and penalties aggregating $150,000 and next week he will issue tax warrants for collection against those companies which have reported, as well as the ones that have not. The law became effective May 26, and the first payment was due June 30, the next Sept. 30, and the third on Dec. 31. The penalty is 19 per cent per annum, while the gross revenue tax is 2 per cent.

Suit for $15,000.
Muskogee, Feb. 5.—Fifteen thousand dollars is the sum demanded of the M. K. & T. railway for the death of her husband by Mrs. Mary Berry of Konawa. Mrs. Berry's claim has been taken to the United States district court and the case was set by Judge Campbell for today.

Mrs. Berry charges in her petition for damages, that the railroad company's employees killed her husband through negligence at Konawa in July of 1907. A work train she alleges, was running without lights or signals at night and struck her husband on the public highway.

Judge John Q. Hyde with Attorneys Furman and Croxton will represent Mrs. Berry. Captain A. P. Cagle, surveyor of Seminole county is one of the witnesses in the case.

A Bunch of Keys.

Musical comedies come and go, some that have outlived their usefulness barely last one season, and when the exit from public attention is made they scarcely ever leave a trace of their existence behind them. How very different, however, from all these, "A Bunch of Keys" has enjoyed immense popularity from the start of its flourishing career, which began in the long, long ago; and even today there is not one other left to match or approach its continued worth as a merry-maker of infinite genuineness. "A Bunch of Keys" comes to us here at the Ada opera house next Tuesday night, Feb. 9, and its offering can be firmly relied upon to afford an entertainment of fun and music combined with such novelties as has always characterized its mission to give wholesome pleasure.

IT IS AN IMPORTANT MEETING

A mass meeting of the citizens of Ada, is called Saturday night at the 25,000 Club rooms to consider the Normal situation.

A report will be had from Messrs. Broadfoot, Wimbish, Thomas and others who have been to Guthrie, in behalf of Ada's interests.

The situation is as flattering as could be expected, but constant watchfulness is necessary to hold the vantage point that Ada has secured.

This meeting tomorrow night is an important one, and it behooves every citizen of Ada, who is interested in the continued upbuilding and advancement of the city, to be present.

FIERCE WIND AND LIGHTNING

At midnight or thereabouts last night a sudden miniature cyclone swept down on Ada, and preceded lightning and rain a short while.

The wind came in gusts that toppled over many out houses, lifted roofs and demolished awnings, while several houses were moved from their foundations.

Many people lost no time in leaping from their beds to ascertain the course of the rocking motion of their surroundings, and some were thoroughly awakened by the crash of furniture, breaking of crockery and general unsteadiness of the buildings in which they were.

Among those suffering loss are the following:

The residence of Supt. Pierce was lifted from its foundation and damage done his household effects, while he was no doubt a much frightened man as his wife is away from home and he was there alone. This morning the Professor hied himself to where his wife is visiting.

The Sunrise school house that a former wind somewhat loosened from its moorings was last night completed in its removal from its foundation.

Chas. Bills had a wagon to disappear in the wind and he is trying to locate its whereabouts.

A house of Chas. Wartin was also blown off its foundation and other damage done his premises.

E. L. Pool had a barn demolished.

E. E. Matthews' buggy was torn up.

Carlton Weaver's new chicken coop.

New State Restaurant

Meals served between the hours of 11:30 and 2 o'clock

disappeared along with one lone hen with which he was trying to make a start in the poultry business.

The barn on Mr. Miller's place was blown several yards.

The wooden awning in front of a pool hall was blown down and a large plate glass window broken.

A small residence on east Main street was blown off its foundation.

Several other barns were demolished and numerous small houses toppled over, while roofs of a number of houses were damaged.

Mrs. W. O. Neely has returned from Tishomingo.

Oklahoman.
They are telling a story of W. H. L. Campbell, clerk of the state supreme court, that is a good story whether it is true or not. Campbell was recently appointed colonel on the governor's staff. He made his first appearance in uniform at El Reno, while that town was entertaining the governor and members of the Oklahoma legislature recently. According to the story, as it comes from El Reno, Campbell's plotting friends prevailed on the governor to salute Campbell as he passed. Campbell, somewhat ignorant of the exact nature of the military salute, but equally anxious to do the right thing, removed his hat and made a bow worthy of the name. It is said that it cost him $50 to treat the crowd.

ADA WILL BE REPRESENTED

The Cement Users and Contractors' convention will meet at Oklahoma City, Feb. 9th and continue in session three days. It will be the first annual convention held of those who represent such an important and growing industry as the manufacture and use of cement is growing to be in Oklahoma.

Richard L. Humphreys, president of the National Cement Users' association will be present and deliver an address, and other prominent speakers from a distance will also be present.

Wm. L. Whitaker, manager of the Oklahoma Portland Cement company of Ada, will speak on the "Manufacture of Portland Cement and its relation to the Development of Oklahoma."

This will be one of the most important questions before the convention for discussion, and Mr. Whitaker is thoroughly capable of treating the subject in all its phases, and his selection to discuss it was a most appropriate one.

The cement industry is one of the most important in the future development of this section and it is unquestionably the coming building material of the age.

Bachelor Girls' Ball.

Although Leap Year has passed, the bachelor girls of Ada, who are progressive and up to date do not care about that. Tonight they will give a ball to the eligible young men here who dance, and if these boys do not succumb to the grace beauty and wiles of these bachelor girls, they are a hardened set of incorrigibles.

The court room is being beautifully decorated in festoons of variegated colors and unique designs turned under the skillful hands of Lee Eddleman and Johnnie Katz.

The music will be fine, the floor well waxed and a gay time is anticipated by the bachelor girls and their escorts.

Warrants That Can Be Paid.

County Treasurer Gates has the money to pay warrants as follows:

STATE CAPITAL LETTER.

Guthrie, Okla., Feb. 3.—That another Hearst agent now working in Oklahoma in an effort to prosecute Governor Haskell has a shady reputation was learned today when telegraphic information was received by Governor Haskell from the Chief of Detectives at Nashville, Tenn.

This agent, the second to become conspicuous within the past week or two, is now at Muskogee. From reliable source it was learned that the agent had a record at Nashville. In reply to a telegram Governor Haskell received the following answer:

"Nashville, Tenn., Feb. 3.—Governor C. N. Haskell, Guthrie, Okla.: Has no criminal record on books here. Was convicted for kidnapping witness in Mullinax case in New York, 1899. Went to asylum here to avoid prosecution for horse stealing. Is an all around crook. Can secure plenty of prominent people who would not believe him on oath. Have written.

"ROBERT SIDEBOTTOM, Chief of Detectives." "This is the character of one of the agents most prominent in securing evidence against Governor Haskell at the Muskogee land investigation.

MacReynolds, the other agent, is still in Guthrie. He refuses to make a statement.

Emergency sections tacked upon bills introduced in the legislature, are meeting a swift death on final enactment. The temper of the legislature seems to be to eliminate the emergency feature from all bills that are not of vital importance for the preservation of public peace, health and safety.

Guthrie, Feb. 3.—The Charles bill, permitting older manufactured outside of the state, to be sold in Oklahoma, when the product complies with the national and state pure food laws and the internal revenue laws, has passed both branches of the legislature.

Senator Graham is preparing a thorough bill looking to the location of the state capital. His measure incorporates the New Jerusalem scheme in a most practical way. If adopted as written the first election will be held the second Tuesday in September next. A second election will be likely to obtain the necessary majority of all votes cast, as provided in the constitution.

Five bills have been approved to the governor.

Few amendments are being made to the school land bill in the senate.

A special committee from both Houses sat as a court of inquiry today to determine who is responsible for errors in the recently published statutes of Oklahoma. The Pipes-Reed Book Co., of Kansas City, contract printers, have had their bill for $30,000 held up pending the investigation.

Guthrie, Okla., Feb. 3.—The effort of the Guthrie State Capital, Judge J. H. Burford, Dennis Flynn and Bird McGuire, defendants in the suit filed against them by the state of Oklahoma to collect overcharges for printing done for Oklahoma Territory by the State Capital Co., to evade the suit by bringing a technical objection to the action, does not agree with the published interview with the defendants last fall when the campaign was on. All of them insisted that they were ready and anxious for trial. When the case was called in the district court of Logan county a few days ago they protested against the identity of the attorney bringing action in behalf of the governor and the court sustained their position. An appeal to the State Supreme court is to be taken at once by the state.

The first candidate for the state capital, under the New Jerusalem idea was presented in the House today by Representative Charles, of Lincoln county. It provides for the location of an "ideal capital city" on lands now owned by the state located in the extreme southern part of Lincoln county. There are no present railroad connections with the site in question.

Muskogee, Ok., Feb. 4.—A twelve-foot vein of coal was struck today in the center of Muskogee, when work men were excavating for a sewer. The strike caused a rise in the property in the vicinity.

Let Us Prove It

Cox-Greer-McDonald Company

Governor Haskell.

If Hearst feels pleasure that Governor Haskell is now indicted on as high sounding criminal charge as that of conspiracy to defraud the government, and it may be presumed that he does, since he has exhausted every device known to crookedness, and every influence which may be afforded through unlimited wealth and national presidential assistance, it is only a further evidence that all the pleasure which could ever possibly come to him through any accomplishment before the public, must come as a result of such a depraved principle, supported by such diseased imagination, which would preclude him from judging the public's estimation of him other than in converse capacity.

As far as the public's estimate of Mr. Hearst's slanders and Mr. Roosevelt's detestable persecutions, inspired by predatory and political corruptionists so long the masters of Oklahoma, against Mr. Haskell, is concerned, Oklahoma's governor is "loved" for the enemies he has made. Some old invids of the Brosius Indian Rights Association type, located a thousand miles away, may be credulous enough to further aid in the slander of Oklahoma, when Mr. Hearst, in red line display, publishes the news of the Haskell indictment, but Oklahoma's and sensible discerning people throughout the nation will understand the animus governing those influences responsible for these indictments and will refuse to hold the governor culpable.

The citizens of Ada will remember how, on the evening preceding the day when the federal government would offer for sale to the highest bidder all the vacant lots in the city of Ada, they filled the court room in open public mass meeting and in the presence of the government representative declared in resolution that the citizens of Ada who held present, peaceable possession of vacant lots should buy the same at the next day's auction at the government's appraisal without interference from others.

This was conspiracy with a vengeance as compared to the conspiracy charge against the Muskogee gentlemen.

It has taken courage and much manhood to build East Oklahoma to its present magnificent proportions and Oklahomans understand just how it was done and such knowledge emphasizes their decision that Haskell has done no wrong. The townspeople of the government held in trust for the Indians of the several tribes interested has been enriched hundreds of thousands of dollars through the Oklahoma railroads he conceived, financed and constructed, and through the exercise of that splendid genius, which through legitimate financial effort built of Muskogee a leading city of the southwest. Those fellows who have taken on fresh zest in attack on the governor because of this Muskogee indictment are plainly cracked.

GOV. HASKELL IS ENDORSED

Oklahoma Legislature Passes Resolutions of Commendation and Citizens Make Million and Quarter Dollar Bond

Guthrie, Ok., Feb. 4.—Gov. C. N. Haskell left for Muskogee tonight to appear in the federal court of the eastern district to answer indictments returned by the grand jury thereof in connection with Muskogee town lot transactions, according to arrangements made yesterday by Thomas H. Owens, the governor's attorney.

A. C. Cruce of Ardmore, a brother of Lee Cruce, who opposed Governor Haskell in the primaries of 1907, has also been retained as counsel, and left for Muskogee this morning. It is understood that nothing more than the acceptance of bail in the sum of $5,000 will be done, and that no hearing may be had until the case is reached on the docket of the federal court there. Gov. Haskell says that he is anxious for an early trial.

denouncing the action of the government officials and expressing confidence in those who were indicted. Sentiment here is in their favor. C. W. Turner was the only one who would make a statement. Those indicted decline to make a public statement, each declaring he had done no wrong.

It is understood Gov. Haskell will ask that his case be brought to trial as soon as possible, which will probably not be before the May term.

Mott Says He Did It

St. Louis, Mo., Feb. 4.—M. L. Mott, attorney for the Creek Nation, asserted here today that the land fraud investigation in Oklahoma was instituted as the result of evidence which he gathered in connection with the civil suits for the recovery of lands alleged to have been fraudulently obtained from the Indians, whom he represents. Interest of the government in the present prosecutions is simply that of a trustee, said Mr. Mott, who, with Chief Moty Tiger of the Creeks, was in St. Louis for a few hours on his way to Washington where they are to urge the enactment of certain legislation. He claims the Creeks lost many acres by fraudulent transactions. Because the government was trustee for the Indians it was charged with the duty of recovering the lands. But it was prevented from properly discharging its duties as trustee by the frauds. Consequently the interest of the government in the criminal plans is that of a trustee in addition to its usual police attitude.

"There is no truth in the report circulated by Gov. Haskell or his friends that William R. Hearst inspired the suits. I was the man who inspired the prosecutions, and from the first I have been the most active in forwarding them."

Million and Quarter Bond

Guthrie, Okla., Feb. 4.—Further evidence that the resentment following the indictment of Gov. C. N. Haskell on the alleged charge of conspiracy is not confined to his home city of Muskogee, but is fast growing state wide, was furnished today when two citizens of Guthrie, J. M. Brooks and J. D. Burke, in a few minutes this afternoon secured a bond for the governor that represented probably more than $1,200,000.

The list of signers were: J. M. McNeal, A. R. Eastman, W. M. Spurlock, J. M. Brooks, N. H. Patterson, Edward Nichols, J. D. Burke, E. E. Byers, A. R. Byers, L. N. Beadles, U. C. Guss, Robert Schibegg, A. G. C. Blerer, Tom Jenkins, J. H. Rucks, J. J. O'Rourke, J. R. Cottingham, Will H. Chappell, L. G. Nulack, Roy V. Hoffman, Ed C. Peterson, H. O. Adams, and others.

This unusual compulsion was paid the governor after it was known that citizens of Muskogee had yesterday made a bond for the full amount, in fact the number of signers appearing at the federal court rooms was greater than could be accommodated on the paper presented for their signatures.

Muskogee, Ok., Feb. 4.—The county commissioners are arranging to work Muskogee county prisoners on the roads. This has been contemplated for months, but not until today have the commissioners felt that they could proceed legally.

LEGISLATIVE PROCEEDINGS

In response to a widespread sentiment over the state that the provision of the constitution prohibiting the consolidation of railroads in the state has practically put a stop to new railway construction in Oklahoma, Senator Brownlee of Kingfisher, republican today introduced a joint resolution for the submission of a proposed constitutional amendment repealing this provision.

The provision in question is section 9, article 9, of the constitution, and it prohibits all consolidations, even going so far as to prevent a constructing company, which builds an independent line of railway, from selling it to one of the older railway systems.

The section is one which has been very frequently attacked by the railroads, as hindering progress of railroad building, and by the federation of commercial clubs.

Another constitutional amendment is proposed in a joint resolution by Taylor allowing the legislature to impose additional restrictions on suffrage but providing that no tax payment of more than $2 shall be required, and that the restriction shall not be in conflict with the fifteenth amendment. This was followed up with a bill in which Taylor provides that constitutional amendments shall be printed in the regular party columns on the official ballot, and that a vote in the circle under the device votes for all amendments unless the "yes" in front of them is scratched out.

Having as its object the prevention of tax payments in warrants and the actual issuance of tax receipts on drafts and checks until they have actually been paid by banks upon which was introduced by Senator Brownlee. The proposed measure makes it unlawful for those who have charge of the collection of taxes to accept any payment other than in lawful money, checks or drafts of postoffice orders or express company orders.

The senate completed engrossment of the school land bill and will endeavor to pass it finally tomorrow. There are pending on third reading a large number of amendments defeated in committee of the whole. Among them is one to sell all the school lands in the state, but submit the matter to a vote of the people, so they may retain any class of lands they desire. As the bill was engrossed, the common school and higher college lands are reserved from sale, with varying details as to the amount of purchase subject to change. There is no restriction upon buyers not prohibited by the constitution, and non-residents are given the same opportunities enjoyed by residents. Long-time payments are provided for, and it is agreed that should the state need money for the erection of public buildings another act would be passed authorizing the issuance of debenture bonds based upon the public buildings lands. The emergency clause was defeated.

A favorable report was made upon the bill by Mr. Turner, for the organization of a state police department with powers of sheriffs. In all counties of the state likewise upon the bill regulating the practice of chiropractors.

Legislative Notes

Guthrie, Okla., Feb. 4.—Territorial Governor Thos B Ferguson, and Mrs. Ferguson, were guests of the lower house today. Upon invitation of Speaker Wilson, Gov. Ferguson spoke briefly. He struck terror to the hearts of the republican members when he declared that he believed the work of the present legislature reflected the prevailing sentiment over Oklahoma for a square deal for all interests. His approval of the legislature came as a distinct shock to Gristmill Jones the republican leader. Gov. Ferguson is now editing his paper, the Republican, at Watonga.

Representative Ben Williams, of Antlers, is behind a house effort to recognize those medical practitioners excluded from license by the act of the last legislature.

Grand Lodge of Masons.
McAlester, Ok., Feb. 4.—When the grand lodge of Masons of Indian Territory meets here next Tuesday it will be for the last time under that name, for after a short session it will adjourn to meet in Guthrie Feb. 11, where it will be united with the organization existing in Oklahoma Territory prior to statehood, and the two bodies will become the grand lodge of the state of Oklahoma.

THE ROOSEVELT AND HEARST INDICTMENTS.

Muskogee Times-Democrat.

The expected has happened. Governor Haskell thinks that ever since he sued William R. Hearst for libel and exposed Theodore Roosevelt in the Osage Indian land lease frauds those twin exemplars of civic righteousness—the one receiving and paying for the stolen Archbold letters and the other hiding and refusing to congress the papers in which he permitted, or suggested or recommended, that his friends of the Steel Trust illegally acquire the stock of the helpless Tennessee Coal & Iron company, by which its stockholders were impoverished and his cronies vastly enriched—the two of them, probably working in concert, have moved heaven, earth and the federal machinery to “get even” with the man who dared tell the truth and defy the minions of an enemy who stops at nothing to compass his ends, however reprehensible or however indefensible they may be. The allegations for which the governor and several other prominent residents of this city and community stand indicted were committed years ago, but up to that time the president and his unsavory side partner had no personal quarrel with anyone down here and their shortcomings had not been exposed and denounced by Oklahoma's chief executive. But when he dared to denounce crime and criminals then they felt he was personal in his philippics and caustic in his diatribes.

In the prosecution of their designs they have threaded every avenue of Oklahoma's territory and turned over every stone under which might be concealed some act that might possibly throw discredit upon the governor. For months their secret agents, from ex-convicts to secret service men in the employ of the federal government, have shadowed every man prying into every recess in every town in Oklahoma in hopes of unearthing some disreputable act of the governor upon which they might base a criminal accusation.

Not only that, but reputable men are said to have been approached and offered money to swear falsely against the executive, and one of said alleged “agents” was caught, exposed and jailed.

Indictments are easily found, evidence being heard only by the prosecution and then from willing witnesses for the government, and judgment should be withheld until the defense is heard. Whether technically or actually guilty the accused must and will have their day in court. In the cases under discussion no one will deny that the men accused are and were the ranking upbuilders of the territory and state in which they live and for which they have labored more perhaps than any other six men in it. The most violent partisan will not deny the prosecution as now conducted was instituted with the avowed intention and ultimate object of breaking the governor and diverting attention from the known culpability of the men behind the federal guns. So far they have been partially successful, in that they have for the moment thrown an honest and avenging Nemesis off their own track but this desperate attempt to side a truck real offense and give themselves a respite will not avail nor condone the acts for which they must stand trial before the bar of public opinion, the most just and the most inexorable tribunal on earth.

Bill for Sale of Coal Surface Lands May Now Pass.

McAlester, Ok., Feb. 4.—E. P. Hill of McCurtain & Hill, attorneys for the Choctaw and Chickasaw tribes of Indians, returned today from Kinta, where he has been in conference with Gov. Green McCurtain. It is now announced that Gov. McCurtain is in favor of selling the surface of the segregated coal lands and is in accord with the bill to this end now pending in congress. This now ends all opposition to the measure, except that of Representative Bird McGuire he being the only member of the Oklahoma delegation not in favor of such sale. Governor McCurtain in his last message to the Choctaw Council had recommended that the coal and the surface be sold together and the council so memorialized congress and sent Dr. Wright and Peter Hudson to Washington as delegates to work to this end. That with the Indians' objection withdrawn there is a prospect of the bill becoming a law at this session of congress, is the belief expressed here.

Ex-Agency Cashier Convicted.

Muskogee, Ok., Feb. 4.—A verdict of guilty was returned by the jury in the United States court against Lyman K. Lane, charged with the embezzlement of $7,890.50 from the government while cashier of the union agency. Lane's attorneys at once filed a motion for a new trial. Lane was released on his old bond until tomorrow morning.

FREE EMPLOYMENT AGENCY

Oklahoma City, Ok., Feb. 4.—The new state of Oklahoma has undertaken, by means of a free employment agency to solve the double problem of relieving the shortage in labor and of supplying work for the unemployed. It might seem peculiar that a state should have a shortage in its labor supply and at the same time have many unemployed within its borders, but such a condition often exists because of the unequal distribution of the labor and the inability of the employer who needs labor and the laborer who needs work to get into touch with each other. The removal of this difficulty is one of the chief objects of the free employment agency which was provided for by the first Oklahoma State legislature. It is a duty of the superintendent of the agency not only to attempt to secure employment for those who apply for work and to supply labor to those employers who ask for the help of the agency, but to anticipate these demands by making an investigation to determine where there is a shortage and where there is an oversupply of labor and to attempt to remedy these conditions by endeavoring to secure a more even distribution of the labor.

That the work of the agency has been of great value is shown by the fact that since July 1, when the office was opened, employment has been furnished to 2,500 persons. The records of the office show that fully 90 per cent of the persons who have applied for work have secured employment through the agency, while about 75 per cent of the applications for labor have been filled.

The results have been so satisfactory that plans are already being made for the extension of the work and the next legislature will be asked to enact a law which will enable the agency to enlarge the scope of its usefulness.

It is proposed to establish ten or twelve subagencies in various parts of the state. This will enable the superintendent to keep in close touch with local conditions and make it easier for employers and employees in various parts of the state to avail themselves of the service of the agency. E. W. Vance, the superintendent of the agency, also has a plan which he proposes to put into effect after Jan. 1, which he believes will be of great value in his work. He proposes to have the secretary of every local labor union in the state to make a postal card report to him every week, showing the exact labor conditions in the field covered by his union, giving information in regard to the demand for labor and the number of members of the union out of employment. Mr. Vance, who is an old railroad man, proposes to keep this record on a sheet resembling that of a train dispatcher, so that he can determine at a glance where labor is needed and where the men to meet the demands are to be found.

It is the aim of the agency to make the local supply meet the local demand so far as possible and to find positions for applicants as near their home as possible. This reduces the cost of transportation and enables the applicants to secure employment at or near their homes.

During the last summer and fall there has been less complaint of a shortage of farm labor than has been heard in the past, as the agency has been able to supply almost all the demands that have been made upon it for that class of labor. There is still a shortage in farm labor, however, as well as in common labor of all kinds.

The work of the agency is not confined to the supplying of demands for manual labor, but according to the superintendent, includes the furnishing of employment in any trade or profession. The applications for positions as stenographers and bookkeepers have outnumbered those for any other kind of employment and Superintendent Vance finds that there is a considerable surplus of this class of help over the demand. This he ascribes largely to the great number of graduates which are being turned out every year by the hundreds of business colleges in the country.

The railroads have availed themselves of the services of the agency and applications have been received for conductors, engineers and railroad men of all kinds. Civil engineers, draughtsmen and other skilled workmen have secured good positions through the agency.

The services of the agency are available not only to residents of Oklahoma, but to persons in other states who desire to secure employment in the new state. Many applications have been received from persons in the east and north. The service is entirely free, not even a registration fee being charged. The agency is maintained by an appropriation out of the general revenues of the state and no attempt is made to make it self-supporting.

The free employment agency is only one branch of the department of labor which was created by the new state constitution as a result of the demands made by the union labor interests of the state. Probably no other organization was as active as the labor unions during the period of the formation of the new state, and as a result the labor interests secured the enactment of many laws which are expected to be of great benefit to the laboring classes. The constitution provides for the creation of a department of labor under the direction of a commissioner of labor, who shall be elected by the people. In every other state which has a labor commission the office is an appointive rather than an elective one. It is believed by the labor interests here that a commissioner elected by and responsible to the people can be relied upon to administer the duties of the office more fearlessly and independently than one appointed by the Governor and restricted by his relations to the administration.

The union labor interests have absolute control of the department of labor as it is at present constituted. Charles Daugherty, the labor commissioner is a union printer, and he has made a rule that no one shall be employed in the department who does not hold a union card.

W. G. Ashton the assistant commissioner, is a union printer. F. E. Warren, Factory Inspector, is a member of the Carpenter's Union. E. W. Vance, Superintendent of the Free Employment Agency, is a member of the Brotherhood of Railroad Conductors, and even the stenographer in the office is a member of the Farmers' Union.

Factory inspection and the settlement of labor troubles are the other main features of the work of the department of labor, in addition to the maintenance of the Free Employment Bureau. The law relating to factory inspection provides that the Factory Inspector shall inspect, at least once every year, all foundries, workshops, machine shops, laundries and manufacturing establishments in the state. The law prescribes in detail the conditions which should exist in such institutions and the inspector is given authority to order any changes in the buildings, equipment and working conditions which he may deem necessary to secure a compliance with the law and to protect the employees. If his orders are not complied with, it is the duty of the commissioner to prosecute the offender. The inspector has already made one inspection and is now on his second tour over the state to see whether his orders are being obeyed.

While no occasion has arisen to test the value of the law creating a state board of arbitration and conciliation, that body is expected to prove of great value when its services are needed. The law provides that this board shall have the power, even if neither party to a strike will consent to submit the matter to arbitration, to make an investigation of the facts and make recommendations for the settlement of the controversy. The board has the power to issue subpoenas and compel the attendance of witnesses. The board has no power to force the parties to the controversy to accept its findings, but it is believed that public opinion will force the acceptance of the board's findings if a public investigation shows that they are fair and just.

Coal Land Companies Owe State.

Guthrie, Ok., Feb. 4.—State Auditor Trapp has received reports from twenty-five coal companies operating in the McAlester field, covering their gross productions of coal in compliance with the Anthony bill. The Auditor went to McAlester two weeks ago to examine the books. From the reports he finds these coal companies are indebted to the state in taxes and penalties aggregating $150,000 and next week he will issue tax warrants for collection against those companies which have reported, as well as the ones that have not. The law became effective May 26, and the first payment was due June 30, the next Sept. 30, and the third on Dec. 31. The penalty is 10 per cent per annum, while the gross revenue tax is 2 per cent.

Suit for $15,000.

Muskogee, Feb. 5.—Fifteen thousand dollars is the sum demanded of the M. K. & T. railway for the death of her husband by Mrs. Mary Berry of Konawa. Mrs. Berry's claim has been taken to the United States district court and the case was set by Judge Campbell for today.

Mrs. Berry charges in her petition for damages, that the railroad company's employees killed her husband through negligence at Konawa in July of 1907. A work train she alleges, was running without lights or signals at night and struck her husband on the public highway.

Judge John Q. Hyde with Attorneys Furman and Croxton will represent Mrs. Berry. Captain A. P. Cagle, surveyor of Seminole county is one of the witnesses in the case.

A Bunch of Keys.

Musical comedies come and go, some that have outlived their usefulness barely last one season, and when the exit from public attention is made they scarcely ever leave a trace of their existence behind them.

How very different, however, from all these, "A Bunch of Keys" has enjoyed immense popularity from the start of its flourishing career, which began in the long, long ago; and even today there is not one other left to match or approach its continued worth as a merry-maker of infinite genuineness. "A Bunch of Keys" comes to its here at the Ada opera house next Tuesday night, Feb. 9, and its offering can be firmly rolled upon to afford an entertainment of fun and music combined with such novelties as has always characterized its mission to give wholesome pleasure.

IT IS AN IMPORTANT MEETING

A mass meeting of the citizens of Ada, is called Saturday night at the 25,000 Club rooms to consider the Normal situation.

A report will be had from Messrs. Broadfoot, Winnish, Thomas and others who have been to Guthrie, in behalf of Ada's interests.

The situation is as flattering as could be expected, but constant watchfulness is necessary to hold the vantage point that Ada has secured.

This meeting tomorrow night is an important one, and it behooves every citizen of Ada, who is interested in the continued upbuilding and advancement of the city, to be present.

FIERCE WIND AND LIGHTNING

At midnight, or thereabouts last night a sudden miniature cyclone swept down on Ada, and preceded lightning and rain a short while.

The wind came in gusts that toppled over many out houses, lifted roofs and demolished awnings, while several houses were moved from their foundations.

Many people lost no time in leaping from their beds to ascertain the course of the rocking motion of their surroundings, and some were thoroughly awakened by the crash of furniture, breaking of crockery and general unsteadiness of the buildings in which they were.

Among those suffering loss are the following:

The residence of Supt. Pierce was lifted from its foundation and damaged done his household effects, while he was no doubt a much frightened man as his wife is away from home and he was there alone. This morning the Professor tied himself to where his wife is visiting.

The Sunrise school house that a former wind somewhat loosened from its moorings was last night completed in its removal from its foundation.

Chas. Bills had a wagon to disappear in the wind and he is trying to locate its whereabouts.

A house of Chas. Martin was also blown off its foundation and other damage done his premises.

E. L. Pool had a barn demolished.

E. E. Matthews' buggy was torn up.

Carlton Weaver's new chicken coop.

New State Restaurant

Meals served between the hours of 11:30 and 2 o'clock

Short orders served at all hours

Always the best that the market affords

disappeared along with one lone hen with which he was trying to make a start in the poultry business.

The barn on Mr. Miller's place was blown several yards.

The wooden awning in front of a pool hall was blown down and a large plate glass window broken.

A small residence on east Main street was blown off its foundation.

Several other barns were demolished and numerous small houses toppled over, while roofs of a number of houses were damaged.

Mrs. W. O. Neely has returned from Tishomingo.

Col. Campbell Returned Salute.

Oklahoman.
They are telling a story of W. H. L. Campbell, clerk of the state supreme court, that is a good story whether it is true or not. Campbell was recently appointed colonel on the governor's staff. He made his first appearance in uniform at El Reno, while that town was entertaining the governor and members of the Oklahoma legislature recently. According to the story, as it comes from El Reno, Campbell's plotting friends prevailed on the governor to salute Campbell as he passed. Campbell, somewhat ignorant of the exact nature of the military salute, but equally anxious to do the right thing, removed his hat and made a bow worthy of the name. It is said that it cost him $50 to treat the crowd.

ADA WILL BE REPRESENTED

The Cement Users and Contractors' convention will meet at Oklahoma City, Feb. 9th and continue in session three days. It will be the first annual convention held of those who represent such an important and growing industry as the manufacture and use of cement is growing to be in Oklahoma.

Richard L. Humphreys, president of the National Cement Users' association will be present and deliver an address, and other prominent speakers from a distance will also be present.

Wm. L. Whittaker, manager of the Oklahoma Portland Cement company of Ada, will speak on the "Manufacture of Portland Cement and its relation to the Development of Oklahoma."

This will be one of the most important questions before the convention for discussion, and Mr. Whittaker is thoroughly capable of treating the subject in all its phases, and his selection to discuss it was a most appropriate one.

The cement industry is one of the most important in the future development of this section and it is unquestionably the coming building material of the age.

Bachelor Girls' Ball.

Although Leap Year has passed, the bachelor girls of Ada, who are progressive and up to date do not care about that. Tonight they will give a ball to the eligible young men here who dance, and if these boys do not succumb to the grace beauty and wiles of these bachelor girls, they are a hardened set of incorrigibles.

The court room is being beautifully decorated in festoons of variegated colors and unique designs formed under the skillful hands of Lee Eddleman and Johnnie Katz.

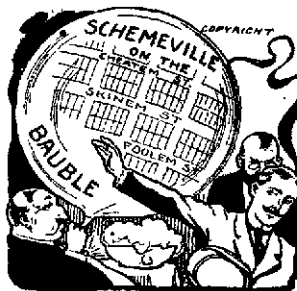

The music will be fine, the floor well waxed and a gay time is anticipated by the bachelor girls and their escorts.

Warrants That Can Be Paid.

County Treasurer Cates has the money to pay warrants as follows:
From 1 to 19 on the supply fund.
From 1 to 32 on the county fund.
From 1 to 273 on court fund.
From 1 to 20 on the salary fund.

STATE CAPITAL LETTER.

Guthrie, Okla., Feb. 3.—That another Hearst agent now working in Oklahoma in an effort to prosecute Governor Haskell has a shady reputation was learned today when telegraphic information was received by Governor Haskell from the Chief of Detectives at Nashville, Tenn.

This agent, the second to become conspicuous within the past week or two, is now at Muskogee. From reliable source it was learned that the agent had a record at Nashville. In reply to a telegram Governor Haskell received the following answer:

"Nashville, Tenn., Feb. 3.—Governor C. N. Haskell, Guthrie, Okla.: Has no criminal record on books here. Was convicted for kidnapping witness in Mullineux case in New York, 1889. Went to asylum here to avoid prosecution for horse stealing. Is an all around crook. Can secure plenty of prominent people who would not believe him on oath. Have written.

"ROBERT SIDEBOTTOM, "Chief of Detectives." This is the character of one of the agents most prominent in securing evidence against Governor Haskell at the Muskogee land investigation.

MacReynolds, the other agent, is still in Guthrie. He refuses to make a statement.

Emergency sections tacked upon bills introduced in the legislature, are meeting a swift death on final enactment. The temper of the legislature seems to be to eliminate the emergency feature from all bills that are not of vital importance for the preservation of public peace, health and safety.

Guthrie, Feb. 3.—The Charles bill, permitting older manufactured outside of the state, to be sold in Oklahoma, when the product complies with the national and state pure food laws and the internal revenue laws, has passed both branches of the legislature.

Senator Graham is preparing a thorough bill looking to the location of the state capital. His measure incorporates the New Jerusalem scheme in a most practical way. If adopted as written the first election will be held the second Tuesday in September next. A second election will be likely to obtain the necessary majority of all votes cast, as provided in the constitution.

Five bills have been approved to the governor.

Few amendments are being made to the school land bill in the senate.

A special committee from both Houses sat as a court of inquiry today to determine who is responsible for errors in the recently published statutes of Oklahoma. The Pipes-Reed Book Co., of Kansas City, contract printers, have had their bill for $35,000 held up pending the investigation.

Guthrie, Okla., Feb. 3.—The effort of the Guthrie State Capital, Judge J. H. Burford, Dennis Flynn and Bird McGuire, defendants in the suit filed against them by the state of Oklahoma to collect overcharges for printing done for Oklahoma Territory by the State Capital Co., to evade the suit by bringing a technical objection to the action, does not agree with the published interview with the defendants last fall when the campaign was on. All of them insisted that they were ready and anxious for trial. When the case was called in the district court of Logan county a few days ago they protested against the identity of the attorney bringing action in behalf of the governor and the court sustained their position. An appeal to the State Supreme court is to be taken at once by the state.

The first candidate for the state capital, under the New Jerusalem idea was presented in the House today by Representative Charles, of Lincoln county. It provides for the location of an "ideal capital city" on lands now owned by the state located in the extreme southern part of Lincoln county. There are no present railroad connections with the site in question.

M., O. & G. Trains to Calvin.

Muskogee, Ok., Feb. 4.—The Missouri, Oklahoma and Gulf opened its road to Calvin, Ok., today. Tomorrow a special train bearing the Muskogee commercial club will make a trip over the new line. The road now connects with the Rock Island.

Coal Vein in City.

Muskogee, Ok., Feb. 4.—A twelve-foot vein of coal was struck today in the center of Muskogee, when work men were excavating for a sewer. The strike caused a lull in the property in the vicinity.

Let Us Prove It

Cox-Greer-McDonald Company

Governor Haskell.

If Hearst feels pleasure that Governor Haskell is now indicted on as high sounding criminal charge as that of conspiracy to defraud the government, and it may be presumed that he does, since he has exhausted every device known to crookedness, and every influence which may be afforded through unlimited wealth and national presidential assistance, it is only a further evidence that all the pleasure which could ever possibly come to him through any accomplishment before the public, must come as a result of such a depraved principle, supported by such diseased imagination, which would preclude him from judging the public's estimation of him other than in converse capacity.

As far as the public's estimate of Mr. Hearst's slanders and Mr. Roosevelt's detestable persecutions, inspired by predatory and political corruptionists so long the masters of Oklahoma, against Mr. Haskell, is concerned, Oklahoma's governor is "loved" for the enemies he has made. Some old mends of the Brosius Indian Rights Association type, located a thousand miles away, may be credulous enough to further aid in the slander of Oklahoma, when Mr. Hearst, in red line display, publishes the news of the Haskell indictment, but Oklahoma's and sensible discerning people throughout the nation will understand the animus governing those influences responsible for these indictments and will refuse to hold the governor culpable.

The citizens of Ada will remember how, on the evening preceding the day when the federal government would offer for sale to the highest bidder all the vacant lots in the city of Ada, they filled the court room in open public mass meeting and in the presence of the government representative declared in resolution that the citizens of Ada who held present, peaceable possession of vacant lots should buy the same at the next day's auction at the government's appraisal without interference from others.

This was conspiracy with a vengeance as compared to the conspiracy charge against the Muskogee gentlemen.

It has taken courage and much manhood to build East Oklahoma to its present magnificent proportions and Oklahomans understand just how it was done and such knowledge emphasizes their decision that Haskell has done no wrong. The townsfolk of the government held in trust for the Indians of the several tribes interested has been enriched hundreds of thousands of dollars through the Oklahoma railroads the conceived, financed and constructed, and through the exercise of that splendid genius, which through legitimate financial effort built of Muskogee a leading city of the southwest. Those fellows who have taken on fresh zest in attack on the governor because of this Muskogee indictment are plainly cracked.

To filter the blood is the kidney's duty.

When they fail to do this the kidneys are sick.

Backache and many kidney ills follow:

Urinary trouble, diabetes.

Doan's Kidney Pills cure them all.

Ada people endorse our claim.

William Tolson, Okla. Ave. and E. First St., Sulphur, Okla., says:

"About two years ago my kidneys became disordered. The kidney secretions were unnatural and irregular in passage and this coupled with backache, made me miserable. A few boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills cured me. I have had occasional backaches since due to exposure to all kinds of weather but a few doses of Doan's Kidney Pills have never failed to dispel my trouble. By experience I have found that this remedy is one that can always be relied upon to give relief."
